

Privacy

Handmade in Britain respects the privacy of its website users. The company does not collect personal information through its website from its website users other than the information its Web site users voluntarily provide through use of its website. Such information consists of the website user's name, address, phone number, fax number, e-mail address and user's website address (URL). This information may be used by Handmade in Britain in any one or more of the following ways: a)To send company - related materials by mail, e-mail or otherwise to its website users; b)To notify its website users about events, services, and other information the company believes its website users might want to know.

HIB website users will, if the website user clicks on links, be taken to third-party websites. You will, in such regard, be subject to the third-party's privacy policies, and HIB cannot be responsible for such third-parties' actions. HIB encourages you to read the privacy policies of such third parties. The company reserves the right to modify HIB's Privacy Policy from time to time, and will post changes to its Privacy Policy so that you might be made aware of such changes. By visiting HIB's website you are accepting the terms of HIB's Privacy Policy. You can, of course, elect not to provide information, but in doing so you might not be able to receive the information described above.
