SCULPT AT KEW

Sculpt at Kew, a four week, international outdoor sculpture trail. Launching for the first time this autumn, the sculpture exhibition is set to become a popular fixture on London's art calendar.

The first edition will site original art works in and around iconic landmarks in the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, offering the unique opportunity to enjoy one of the largest and best exhibitions of outdoor and indoor sculpture in London.

HANDMADE AT KEW

Once again, the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew will play host to Handmade at Kew, the innovative, global craft fair where 150+ highly skilled international makers and galleries will showcase their ceramics, glass, furniture, textiles, metalwork and jewellery.

Taking centre stage in the heart of the botanical gardens, this four-day selling event, housed in an elegant pavilion next to Kew Palace, will offer visitors the unique opportunity to meet and buy one-off pieces directly from artists, makers and craftspeople and learn about the ideas and processes that shape their work.

Tickets include access to the whole of the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew, allowing you to soak up the delights of the world's most famous botanic garden with its fine glasshouses and rare blooms, while browsing, buying or commissioning work directly from internationally renowned artists and craftspeople.

Handmade at Kew and Sculpt at Kew are curated by leading exhibition and event organisers Handmade in Britain, in collaboration with the Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew.

Contemporary sculpture exhibition, Sculpt at Kew, will be open every day from 10am – 6pm, Monday 18 September to Sunday 15 October 2017.

Craft and design fair, Handmade at Kew, returns from 10am – 6pm, Thursday 12 to Sunday 15 October 2017.

Appreciating British Craftsmanship

Handmade in Britain exists to support, promote and celebrate extraordinary artists and craftspeople who create their work in England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland. We increase accessibility and visibility, create market opportunities and maintain high standards in the craft sector whilst providing a comprehensive support programme towards a bright future for British craft and design. Our work provides a platform for design and craft talent through both our own events and collaborations with other organisations, alongside a mentoring programme and membership scheme.

The Royal Botanic Gardens, Kew is a world famous scientific organisation, internationally respected for its outstanding collections as well as its scientific expertise in plant diversity, conservation and sustainable development in the UK and around the world.

Kew Gardens is a major international and a top London visitor attraction. Kew's 132 hectares of landscaped gardens, and Kew's country estate, Wakehurst, attract over 1.5 million visits every year.

Kew was made a UNESCO World Heritage Site in July 2003 and celebrated its 250th anniversary in 2009. Wakehurst is home to Kew's Millennium Seed Bank, the largest wild plant seed bank in the world.

Kew receives approximately just under half of its funding from Government through the Department for the Environment, Food and Rural Affairs (Defra). Further funding needed to support Kew's vital work comes from donors, membership and commercial activity including ticket sales.
